How can I use this with my children?

Print out the pictures and hide them in a few places around your party venue, home or garden.

How does this help my children's learning?

Scavenger and treasure hunts can help your child solve problems in a fun way through seeking out and matching the pictures on the checklist.

Ideas for further learning:

Why not do some research together to find out a little more about each animal of the Chinese zodiac?

Chinese New Year Scavenger Hunt

You will need:

- Chinese New Year Treasure Hunt Checklist
- prizes for the winner(s)

Instructions

1. Print out each of the picture cards. (You may wish to laminate them.)
2. Print out a copy of the checklist for each of player (or team of players).
3. Hide the clue cards around your venue.
4. Encourage the players to hunt for the different pictures.
5. Once they've found a picture, they can tick it off on the Treasure Hunt Checklist.
6. You could set a time limit to see who can find the most pictures in a certain amount of time or challenge them to find all of the pictures in the shortest amount of time.

Extension:

- Play together in small teams.
- Give each team a specific item to find to avoid each team following each other.
- Set a time limit to find each item, once the time has elapsed, ring a bell to bring the teams back together.
- Give small clues for where items will be to guide players in the right direction.
